1/1/22 Conditions Report

10am Update: It is shaping up to be a beautiful New Years Day today, with a fresh groom and some spectacular views of the Wenatchee valley. Temperatures are remaining chilly today, so be sure to bundle up while you are out exploring the mountain.

Welcome to 2022! We are planning on starting this year off right with top to bottom turns on some of the best corduroy around. The party won't stop when the sun sets today, as night ski will be accompanied by our first Mountain Music Series guest, Massy Ferguson. Be sure to bundle up and come ring in the new year at the mountain!

12/31/21 Conditions Report

10 AM Update: The grooming team did another fantastic job last night as the corduroy was silky smooth this morning. The temps are staying low for now, so continue to bundle up warm and enjoy everything the mountain has to offer!

Can you believe we are kicking off the last day of 2021! The new snow yesterday combined with a fresh groom and a little more snow last night should provide some excellent turns this morning. More and more runs are opening every day on the mountain, be sure to take a peek at the Grooming Report and explore areas new to you! Temps are continuing to stay low, which means keep layering up so you can enjoy the mountain all day long!

10am Update: Holy Mackerel, what a great way to start the day! We have received 2-3" this morning and its still coming down! Groomed runs are feeling just right with a nice blanket of snow on top turns are nice and soft from top to bottom. As the wind blows expect conditions to vary around the mountain. Temps are still low so bundle up warm so you can take advantage of the new snow all day long!

It's Snowing! No better way to start the day than with snow coming down and with a possible accumulation of up to 3" today I expect great turns all day long! More and more runs are opening every day on the mountain, be sure to take a peek at the Grooming Report and explore areas new to you! Temps are continuing to stay low, which means keep layering up so you can enjoy the mountain all day long!
